Holloway's Ointment.

Contracted or Stiff Joints.

Gontracted or ours source.

All the medicines in the London dispensaries would barely benefit, much less ource, any chi onic cases of contracted or stiff joints; whereas if this invaluable ointmenthe effectually rubbed into such parts twice a day, the effects will be immense. Paralytic patients even can derive advantages from this fine remedy when other means fail.

Scorbutic Humours.—Scald Head and Skin Dispense.

Scorbutic Humours.—Scald Head and Skin Diseases.

Scorbutic humors arise from an impure state of the blood, and in most cases the liver and stomach are the organs at fault. The Pills will speeding restore these to a healthy action; while the Ointment if well rubbed in at least twice a day, will soon cure any case of skin disease. Soldiers, saitors, and miners, use this famous Ointment in all parts of the world.

Disorders of the Kidneys, Stone and Grave in any of the above complaints rates broading.

In any of the above complaints more benefit may be derived in twenty-four hours by adopting the following simple means than is frequently brough about in six months by any other treatment. In bad cases if the Gintment be rubbed into the small of the back over the region of the kidneys, it will quickly penetrate, and, in most instances, give immediate relief. Six of eight of the Pills sh uld be taken nightly according to circumstances.

and Ulcers.

It is surprising how quickly a sore, ulcer, or wound, deprives the body of strength, and unfits it for the duties of life; but it is no less wonderful to watch the effect of flolloway's Healing Olimbers, which it is used according to the printed directions, and assisted by appropriate doses of the Pills. The pain, inflammation, and other morbid manifestations, soon disappear from the affected part and health and strength return,— This treatment creates sound flesh, and therefore makes its cures complete.

Gout and Rheumatism.

In streatment creates sound nesh, and therefore makes its cures complete.

Gout and Rhoumatism.

Will be cured with the greatest certainty if large quantities of the Ointment be well worked into the complaining parts. This treatment must be perseveringly followed for some time and duly assisted by powerful doses of Hollowy's Pillas. The essence of these diseases lies in the blood, which has floating through each vessel the pain which has floating through each vessel the pain giving poison which withates and inflames every tissue t comes in contact with, and produces the hot, swollen, evisite chilargement about the joints so characteristic of gouty and rheumatic maladies.

CANADIAN AFFAIRS.

By yesterday's mail we are placed in pos session of Canadian intelligence of more than usual interest. The death of the Pre mier, Sir E. P. Tache, it appears, was nearly the occasion of a split in the Canadian Ministry. The Governor General sent for Mr. John A. Macdonald, on the ground of his being senior member of the Ministry, to assume the office of Premier, and afterwards stated the fact to Mr. George Brown. The latter gentleman at once tendered his resignation, asserting that the appointment of any one of the three party leaders-Macdonald Cartier or himself--would be fatal to the coalition which was formed to carry out a great patriotic measure independent of political parties. The Governor did not accept Mr. Brown's resignation, but conferred again with Mr. Macdonald, when it was finally arranged to appoint Sir Narcisse Belleau as Sir E. P. Tache's successor. This appointment was not very satisfactory to Mr. Brown and his two colleagues, Messrs. Howland and McDougall, but it was on grounds of expediency accepted. The following list of the new Ministry shows the few official changes, consequent on the death of Colonel Tache :-Receiver General and Premier-Sir N. F. Belleau. Attorney General West and Minister of Militia-Hon J. A. Macdonald. Attorney General East-Hon. Geo. E. Cartier. Minister of Finance-Hon, A. T. Galt. Commissioner of Crown Lands-Hon. A. Campbell. Minister of Agriculture-Hon. T. D. McGee. Commissioner of Public Works-Hon. J. C. Chapais. President of the Council-Hon. George Brown. Postmaster General-Hon. W. P. Howland. Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education-Hon. W. McDougall. Solicitor General est-Hon. J. Cockburn. Solicitor General East-Hon. H. L. Langevin. The Parliament was opened at Quebec on the 8th of August, when ministerial explanations were given in reference to the matter we have just recorded. The most important subject, however, which came up was the report of the Canadian Delegates to England. It is an important document, but occupies too much space-three columns almost of the Toronto Globe-for re-publication here. We might, however, give its substance as follows: The committee of the Imperial Cabinet appointed to confer with the delegates comprised the Duke of Somerset, Earl Grey, Mr. Gladstone, and Mr. Cardwell. The first subject was that of Confederation, which was fully discussed in all its bearings, and the responsibility of the maritime provinces attempting to thwart the measure pronounced grave in the extreme. "The idea," however, says the report " of coercing the maritime provinces into the measure was not for a moment entertained," but "we received assurances that Her Majesty's Government would adopt every legitimate means for securing their early assent to the Union. In the course of these discussions, the question of the Intercolonial Railway came up as a necessary accompaniment to Confederation, when sought and obtained a renewal of the promised Imperial guarantee of a loan for the construc tion of that work.' The delegates censured very strongly the frequent remarks in the House of Commons and in the English press, that Canada was incapable of efficient protection against invasion across her inland border, and asked the Imperial Government to order a military report on the question. "Such a report was obtained and communicated to us confidentially," say the delegates, and we rejoice to say that it was calculated to remove all doubt as to the security of our country, so long as the hearts of our people remain firmly attached to the British flag, and the power of England is wielded in our The arrangement entered into by the Home Government for Canadian defence has already appeared in our columns, but it may not be uninteresting to give the delegates' own views. "We pointed out that, while fully recognising the necessity and prepared to provide for such a system of defence as would restore confidence in our future at home and abroad, the best ultimate defence for British America was to be found in the increase of her population as rapidly as possible, and the sbanding of our resources to that end; and, without claiming it as a right, we ventured to suggest that by enabling us to throw open the north-western territories to free settlement, and by aiding us in enlarging our canals and prosecuting internal productive works, and by promoting an extensive plan of emigration from Europe into the unsettled portions of our domain-permanent security would be more quickly and surely, and economically secured than by any other means. We did not fail to point out how this might be done without cost or risk to the British Exchequer, and how greatly it would

to be assumed at a moment of depression by the people of Canada." On the question of reciprocity the delegates could not see on what grounds the United States Government, who benefited even more than Canada by the treaty in " the increased foreign commerce of the States, the vast and Incrative carrying trade, the free access to the St. Lawrence, and the invaluable fishing grounds of British America could desire to abrogate the measure." "We explained" says the report, "the immediate injury that would result to Canadian interests from the abrogation of the treaty; but we pointed out at the same time the new and ultimately more profitable channels into which our foreign trade must, in that event, be turned, and the necessity of preparing for the change if indeed it was to come." The result of the negotiations on this question was plead. She wore a plain black cloak, but her bonnet was adorned with a black bugle trimming. There was nothing striking about her personal appearance. She was accompanied by a female warden. The deputy clerk of the Arraigns addressed her thus: "Constance Emilie Kent, this indictment charges you with having, on the 30th June, 1860, willfully murdered Francis Saville Kent. How say you, prisoner at the barare you guilty or not guilty?" The prisoner said in a subdued, but distinct voice, "Guilty." Mr. Justice Willer, after a few minutes consideration, said, addressing the prisoner: "Are you aware that you are charged with having wifully, intentionally and with malice killed your brother?" The prisoner "Yes." Mr. Justice Willes: "And you plead guilty? "The prisoner replied in a very low tone of voice, which was scarcely nudible, "Yes." The sentence on Constance Kent has been commuted to penal servitude for life, and she is to be treated in exactly the same manner as any other criminal subjected to the same species of punishment. She is to be removed at an early day to the convict prison at Brixton, previous to her transportation to Western Australia.

The position of parties is thus described: Liberals (including one double return), 36I; Conservatives (including The governor immediately communicated the double return), 361; Conservatives (including one double return), 286; Irish independent opone double return), 286; Irish independent opposition, 11. The press generally acknowledge that "the elections of the new Parliament have been more than usually distinguished by violence and quite unusually by fraud." Among the very many amusing incidents connected with the recent contests may be mentioned that of Sir Patrick O'Brien, in King's Courty, making a melancholy speech to his supporters under the erroneous belief that he had been defeated. A mistake had occurred which was subsequently rectified by the Sheriff, and Sir Patrick won the scat by six votes over his very formidable opponent, Mr. Popo Hennessy. The loss of the latter gentleman is greatly deplored by the Conservatives, and regretted by some of the more magnanimous Liberals. Of him the Spectator says:—"There was no better Tory torrier in the party, when it was essentially desirable to hunt out a Liberal hedgehog."

EXECUTION OF DR. PRITCHARD. - Dr. Pritch ard was executed in Glasgow, on the morning of the 28th July, at ten minutes past eight. He slept more soundly than usual. Rose at five o'clock, and was attended by several clerical gentlemen, until Calcraft was introduced. On being asked whether he had anything to say, in a clear, firm voice he replied: "Simply to acknowledge the justice of my sentence." He mounted the scaffold without assistance; but when the drop fell, he appeared to suffer considerably. About 80,000 persons were present. The convict five o'clock, and was attended by several anything to say, in a clear, firm voice he replied: "Simply to acknowledge the justice of my sentence." He mounted the scatloid without assistance; but when the drop fell, he appeared to suffer considerably. About 80,000 persons were present. The convict hesitated about going to bed the night previous, apparently from nervousness, or a feeling that his time would be better spent in devotion, and it was only after much presunsion that he consented to go about twelve o'clock. He slept well until five, when he rose refreshed, and having taken a cup of coffee, he calmly engaged in prayer with the prison freshed, and having taken a cup of conee, ne calmly engaged in prayer with the prison chaplain and two other clergymen until he was summoned to meet Caleraft, the hargman. He conducted himself very firmly from this time. Caleraft had some difficulty, by reason of the oulprit's long hair and beard, in arranging the rope and cap, which was drawn over the convict's head.

"HUSBANDS LOVE YOUR WIVES."-A very important judgment has just been given in the Divorce Court, a full knowledge of the spirit of which may have the effect of considerably thinning the business there. The substance of it is, that men who, by ill-treatment of their wives, strive to get rid of them through the medium of that tribunal, shall through the medium of that tribunal, shall not escape the obligations of supporting them when a divorce has been granted. Sir James Wilde says:—"Those for whom shame has no dread, honorable vows no tie, and violence to the weak no sense of degradation, may still be held in check by an appeal to their love of money." This is the first decision that has been given since the establishment of the Court of the general principle that a wile who obtains à divorce may exact de by the Sierra Nevada. that a wife who obtains a divorce may exact from her husband the means of mainten It is based, of course, on the presumption that the conduct of the wife berself has been

FLOUR IMPORTATIONS-The bark Rival has rought two hundred and fifty barrels, six hundred and ninety half sacks and three thousand eight hundred and sixty quarter sacks of flour from San Francisco. This importation will doubtless find a ready market, as stocks are exceedingly limited and not equal to the demand. The Sierra Nevada brought only one hundred quarter sacks from Portland. Prices will now no doubt decline.

THE CYCLONE.—A private letter received yesterday from a lady passenger by the Cy-clone, dated Valparaiso, July 24th, states that the vessel arrived there on the 13th June for of their eleven. repairs, and would sail on the 27th July. It appears that the Cyclone experienced very bad wenther on the passage, and sustained serious damage to her hull. The captain old the passengers that had the same weather ontinued for a day or two longer they would have had to abandon the ship.

ANOTHER POISONING CASE .- Another medcal man named Sprague, practicing at Asha urton, England, has been brought up on the charge of attempting to poison with atropine his wife, his father-in-law, mother-in-law, and his servant girl. The father-in-law evidently has faith in Sprague, for he offers bail to the amount accepted by the magistrate, who bound the prisoner in £1000 and two sureties for £500 each.

TELEGRAPHIC ON DIT.-It is stated that James Gamble, Superintendent of the California State Telegraph Company, has tendered his resignation, with a view to accepting the Superintendency of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, which is said to propose the onstruction of another line across the continent .- Bulletin.

THE WAR IN PARAGUAY.

New York, Sept. 17.—The Buenos Ayres journals contain some farther very interesting items concerning the Paraguayan war. There is said to be much apathy regarding it among the people of the Argentine Confederation, who are slow in joining the army. In order to stift them up Gen. Arguza, formerly President, has issued a proclamation m which he says the contest with Paraguay is so sacred that he would go to join the Legion in the field even if he should be deserted by his own children. Meantime the Government has made arrangements for raising troops in Europe in order to drive the Paraguayans out of the Brazillan Province of the Rio Grande. FREE LABOR IN THE SOUTH. NEW YORK, Sept. 16 .- The Tribune's Washington special says some of the original planters are directing attention to the importation of foreign laborers to conduct the departments of Agriculture. A gentleman in Charlotte, N. C., has introduced 22 Swedes as laborers, who have proved themselves patient, industrious and energetic; but some apprehension is entertained, lest the climate, so far south, may operate unfavorably on their health and powers of endurance, detracting much from the pleasure of the contest. The club, it will be seen, were
